

Antenna Front-to-Back Ratio

This chart below shows the ratio of gain between the front of the antenna compared to that of the back. The higher the rating on this chart shows you the ability of this antenna to reject signals being received off the backside of the antenna. This is a great feature for it's ability to block interferences that could mess up reception.

